Miss Piggy caps Chamber fashion-fest

by GLORIA DAVIS

As usual, Antioch residents who are famous for backing their local civic functions, showed up over 200 strong, to support the first Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry Christmas fashion show, at the Country House, on Thursday evening, Dec. 3.

Interest in the spacious and attractive new addition to the Country House probably also prompted the large attendance.

Besides raising money for the Chamber, the purpose of the show, brainchild of Chamber Secretary Dixie Sparks, was to promote home town Christmas shopping.

WXLC's Larry Leafblad and Laddie Korecek, clad in tuxedos for the occasion, were the handsome and affable emcees, Leafblad's humour filling in some rough spots.

Despite some lighting and timing problems, it was the segment with children modeling and carrying Christmas toys from Ben Franklin, and the presence of Santa that was core of the holiday spirit exemplified by the show.

All the attractive models, the furs from the Globe, filmy lingerie from the Carousel, fashionable knickers from Barnstables, distinguished menswear from Stanley's, togs for swinging male singles from BJ's and a little bit of everything, with some entertaining choreography thrown in, from Jack's Four Squires, showed the variety of items hanging on the local retail racks this season.

The evening's entertainment was a re-cap of the talent segment of the Mr. ACHS contest, held earlier in the year, everything from a male belly and a macho cheerleader to the Blues Brothers.

If nothing else, these gutsy high school fellows should receive an award for sheer courage and male confidence.

Antioch's Mayor Ray Toft started off the evening by introducing many of the area dignitaries in attendance. It would seem that just everybody who is anybody must have been there since even Miss Piggy showed up at the finale to give everyone a peek at what the well-dressed farm animal will be wearing this holiday season.

Six year old boy dies, struck by car on Rte. 173

Palm pleads guilty to bat beating

According to Lt. Tom Fisher, Antioch Police Dept., Tim Palm, 18, Antioch, pled guilty to battery and criminal damage of property in a Lake County Court on Monday, Nov. 30.

Palm was put on one year's probation and ordered to make restitution in the amount of $1,800 to the family of Michael Chinn, 17, Antioch.

Palm, along with William Rentner, 19, Antioch and Joseph Owens, 18, Trevor, were arrested by the Antioch Police on Friday, Oct. 30, in connection with the beating of Chinn and a truck he was driving. Baseball bats were used in beatings.

Rentner and Owens, charged with disorderly conduct, are still awaiting their hearings.

Bill Haley charges reduced

According to a Dade County court clerk, after having charges of possession of marijuana over 20 grams reduced from a felony to a misdemeanor in a higher Florida county court, William Haley, Antioch, pled not guilty at a hearing on Dec. 1, waving jury trial.

He will be scheduled for an appearance before Judge Robert Deehl in Dade County Circuit Court within three weeks.

Haley had turned himself in to the Metropolitan Enforcement Group when they were looking for him on a warrant from the state of Florida on drug trafficking charges, on Nov. 5.

His $50,000 bond was reduced to $5,000 in a Lake County Court.

Haley had also been tried and released on a drug trafficking charge out of San Juan, Puerto Rico in February 1981.

Seven cars crash

by GLORIA DAVIS

The first snows of the winter of 81-82 have caused many accidents already with drivers not used to driving on slippery pavement yet.

One such accident, involving seven cars, occurred on the Lake Villa bridge, Rte. 83, at 7:40 a.m., on Monday Nov. 30.

According to Lake Villa Police Chief John Debevic, a car driven by Veronica Swanson, 17, Lindenhurst, was southbound when it spun out because of the iced over pavement and struck the guard rail.

In another southbound car, Charlene Kania, Antioch, applied her brakes to avoid hitting the Swanson car and when two other cars also applied their brakes to avoid the Kania car, all three automobiles collided. These cars were driven by Charles Ruchs, 32, Antioch and Betty Gamber, 40, Antioch. Barbar Schmitt, 41, Salem, also braking, crashed into the guardrail.

The final of four separate accidents took place when two cars driven by Michael Kapan, 31, Antioch and Robert W. Jones Jr., 35, Grayslake collided with each other while trying to avoid the other vehicles now scattered all over the bridge.

Kania who suffered back and neck injuries was taken to Victory Memorial Hospital by the Lake Villa Resue Squad.

No citations were issued by the police at the scene of the accidents.

17 is too young to die!

The Antioch News received the following "too-short" story from Helen Offen who says that she has carried it a good many years, forgetting where she got it from.

It bears reprinting if it makes just one teenager think twice before driving carelessly or better yet, think three times before drinking and or taking dope before getting behind the wheel, hopefully deciding against taking such chances.

The day I died was an ordinary school day. How I wish I had taken the bus! But I was too cool for the bus. I remember how I wheeled the car out of Mom. "Special favor," I pleaded, "All the kids drive."

When the 2:50 p.m. bell rang, I threw all my books in the locker. I was free until 8:40 a.m. tomorrow morning!

I ran to the parking lot, excited at the thought of driving a car and being my own boss, free!

It doesn't matter how the accident happened. I was goofing off — going too fast, taking crazy chances. But I was enjoying my freedom and having fun.

The last thing I remember was passing an old lady who seemed to be going awfully slow. I heard the deafening crash and felt a terrific jolt.

Glass and steel flew everywhere. My whole body seemed to be turning inside out. I heard myself scream.

Suddenly I awakened: it was very quiet. A police officer was standing over me. Then I saw a doctor. My body was mangled.

I was saturated with blood. Pieces of jagged glass were sticking out all over. Strange that I couldn't feel anything.

Hey, don't pull that sheet over my head. I can't be dead. I'm only 17, I've got a date tonight. I am supposed to grow up and have a wonderful life. I haven't lived yet. I can't be dead.

The funeral was a weird experience. I saw all my relatives and friends walk toward the casket. They passed by, one by one, and looked at me with the saddest eyes I've ever seen.

Some of my buddies were crying. A few of the girls touched my hand and sobbed as they walked away.

Please don't bury me! I'm not dead! I have a lot of living to do! I want to laugh and run again.

Please, God, I'm only 17!

To close the concert, the symphonic band will perform "A Legend of Kings" by Charles Spinney. "Christmas Moods" is a medley of Carols including "Jolly Old St. Nicholas", "O Christmas Tree", and "Up on a House Top".

During intermission the flag and rifle corps will be having a bake sale. Refreshments will be available and also baked goods to take home. There will also be Poinsetta Plants given away, so ticket stubs should be kept.

NO ONE ESCAPES PRESBYOPIA

The word presbyopia is Greek in origin and means "Old man's eyes". Presbyopia comes to all of us if we live long enough. It's part of the process of aging.

Presbyopia is a condition that exists when vision at reading distances becomes difficult and blurry due to a gradual decrease in the focusing ability of the lens of the eye. Presbyopia usually occurs between 40 and 45 years of age and often appears to come on suddenly. It is characterized by a need to hold reading matter farther away ("If my arm was only longer"). Better close vision with brighter light, and symptoms of eyestrain and headaches.

Presbyopia is a normal aging process and, as of today, cannot be prevented. However, properly prescribed reading glasses or bifocals will correct for the progressive loss in near-focusing power and make reading at normal distances clear, sharp and comfortable.

If you are having difficulty reading printed matter, don't put off an eye examination. It's simple procedure and can make reading and close vision work a pleasure again instead of a strain.

Let's help middle man

by GLORIA DAVIS

It's that time of the year when even the scroogiest humbug among us gets a benevolent twinge or two. Many local organizations are busy collecting food for, and packing Christmas baskets to deliver to, needy families.

Tons of children's parties are in the offing, complete with a visit from a disillusioning, weird looking Santa replica, laden with bags of strangely filled Christmas candy that ranks along side of spinach on the kids taste preference parade.

Inevitably a 12 year old gifted student receives a Playschool toy geared to a five year old.

Special celebrations are scheduled for the senior citizens and the managers of local nursing homes are hard put to fit in all the organizations that want to bring Christmas cookies and sing carols for the elderly, although most of them can hardly hear well enough to discern between Good King Wenceslaus and Rudolph.

Minority groups, the crippled and the retarded are all being besieged by well wishers and the hospitals are so jammed with holiday do-gooders, that the nurses and the doctors have taken to making appointments to see their patients.

Not to take anything away from the good that all this does for the "doer" and the "doee," there is one group that is ignored year after year. A group for which no benefits are planned, despite the fact that they probably suffer the biggest brunt of the holiday season, both from financial and mental stress aspects.

How come there are no posters tacked in strategic places asking for donations for that poor average, middle income, middle aged family bread winner who is already out filing a Chapter 13 bankruptcy form, in preparation for the onslaught of payment due notices that will jam the mailbox a few weeks after Christmas?

And harassed mothers of the world, when was the last time you saw a sign posted in your favorite store declaring that Thursday is middle age discount day?

Does overwork anonymous come your aid as you fall exhaustedly in a heap on the kitchen floor after spending three grueling days baking up a storm that rains thousands of Christmas cookies?

What about those sleepless nights you spend standing guard over them so at least a plate full is left for Christmas?, most of which are gobbled up before the holiday?

Forgotten are the people that pay most of our country's bills via the IRS Collection Agency.

One would think that some charitable organization would spearhead a drive to supply tranquilizers for the frustrated moms and dads who have just discovered that most of the items on their Christmas catalogue order are out of stock and the store shelves are devoid of these particular things.

Wouldn't it be nice if the street corners were filled with bearded elves, ringing bells in front of giant black kettles in which kind souls would deposit gaily wrapped bottles of Pepto Bismal, foil wrapped rolls of Tums and Rolaides and any other digestive aid, including a bottle of aspirin or two, all sorely needed by this age group since their stomachs and heads can no longer cope with all that rich and inebriating holiday fare.

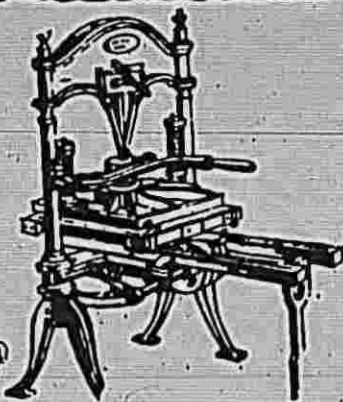

What manner of needy people fall into the category I have just described?

If you look foolish at a swinging singles bar but are still asked for proper identification at the senior center, it's you I'm talking about.

Middle age is when you sit at home on a Saturday night and when the phone rings, are glad it isn't for you.

Those that are too young to collect Social Security but too old to get another job and those who are more worried about how long their car will last instead of how fast it will go, are part of the Geritol Generation.

If you can move as fast as ever, but would rather not and if you've stopped criticizing the older generation and started in on the younger one, you're a peer of mine and let's face it, we need help.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Old Annie Mae just loves Christmas music and I'm looking forward to attending some of the concerts planned by Antioch's schools.

I see that the Antioch Upper Grade School will have their Christmas band concert at 7:30 p.m., on Monday, Dec. 7. The junior and senior bands will be playing many favorite yuletide tunes. Admission is free.

Emmons School will be doing one of my favorite musicals, "Babe In Toyland," at 7 p.m., Dec. 10 and the bands at Antioch High School will be holding their Christmas concert at the same time, on the same night. I'm now plotting how I can be two places at one time, since I can't bear to miss either.

Maybe I can see the first half of one and the second half of the other.

Charlene Kania, Lakeland Newspaper's advertising salesman who was injured in a multi-car crash on the Lake Villa bridge on Monday, Nov. 30, has nothing but plaudits for the manner in which her injury was handled by the Lake Villa Rescue Squad. Get well soon, Charlene.

Jacque Vogt and Justin Brice will be seen on tv, Channel 5, all this week from Hawthorn Center. They will be on at 6:20 p.m., on Monday, Dec. 7 and 8:25 and 10:30 a.m. and 5:15 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 8.

If you would like to do something special to make Christmas a merry one for members of the military who are away from home this Christmas, why not call Ensign Cantrell at (312) 688-2201 and have a sailor or two over to your house for Christmas dinner.

Joanne Sherwood and her husband, Camp Lake, are picking up four members of the United States Navy at Great Lakes on Christmas day and taking them home for an old fashioned home cooked holiday meal.

Speaking of Christmas sharing, Angie Maras tells me that things are moving a little slowly with donations to the giant "Sharing and Caring" gift box at Hawthorn Center. The gifts should be tagged, designating if they are for a boy or girl. The Salvation Army and the Variety Club of Illinois will distribute them.

For the many people who want to wish Ginger Fairchild a speedy recovery, she has been transferred from Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan to Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge.

Weren't those Haley sisters, Mary and Shiela (excuse me, Mary Malick) standouts at the Chamber fashion show?

Congrats to my good friend John Cioffi who has the True Value Hardware and V&S Variety just over the state line in Paddock Lake. John's celebrating his 10th anniversary with an unbelievable sale.

For the information of those of you who have been wondering about all the excavation going on around the Grass Lake School, it looks like Antioch High School will have nothing on Grass Lake, since they too expect to have a new soccer field come spring.

Silent nights, snow, church bells mean Christmas

Editors Note: The following theme, written by Lisa Eberhard of Antioch, won fourth place in the Lakeland Newspapers' Christmas theme contest in Class III.

The silent nights; the snow of white.

The gifts beneath the beautiful tree; lit by the window for all to see.

The sound of church bells as they ring; the beautiful music the chorus sings.

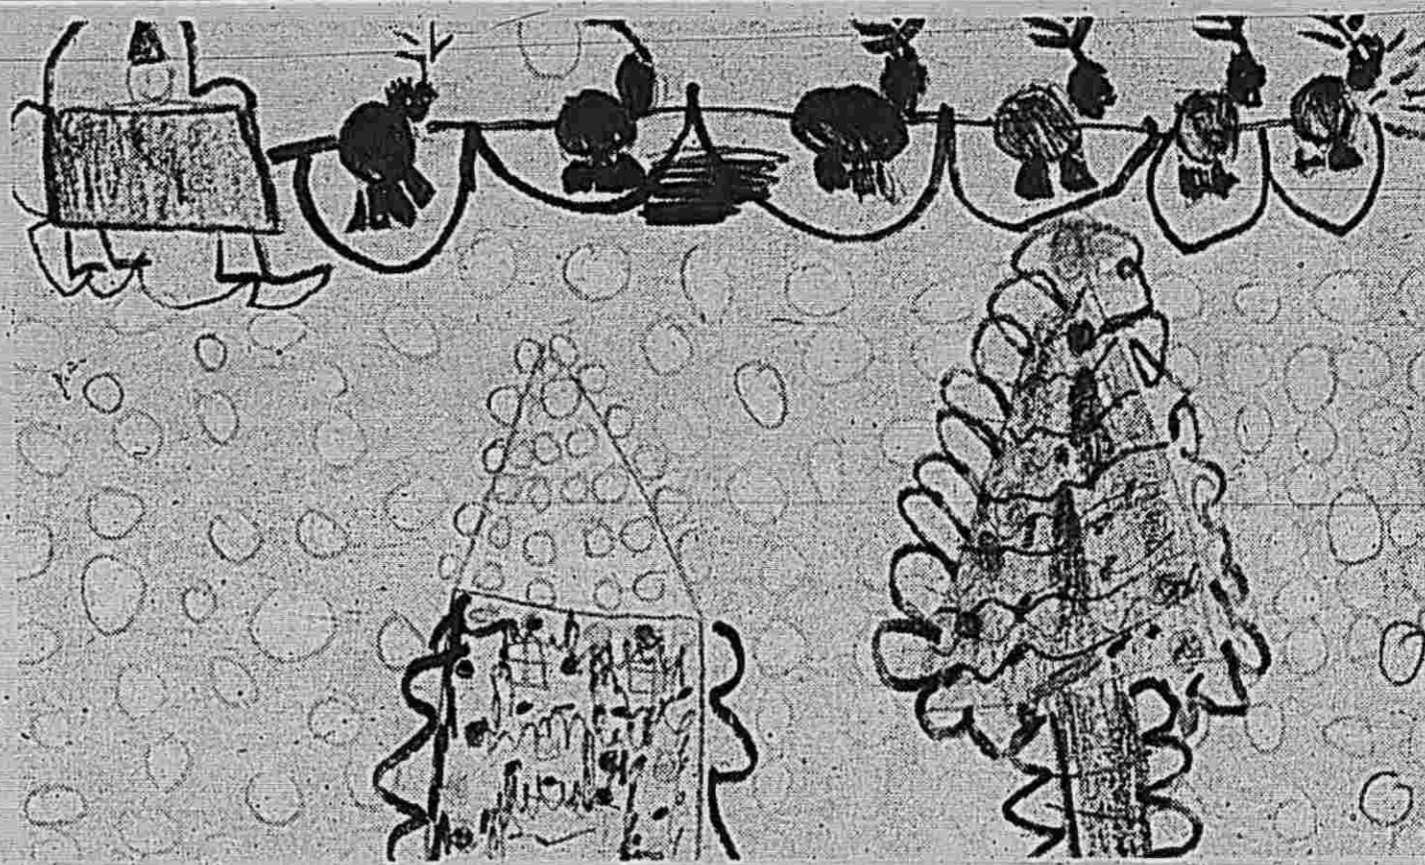

The silent nights, the snow of white, the gifts beneath the tree, the church bells that ring and the music the chorus sings, these are only part of what Christmas truly means.

We have Christmas because of Jesus who was born in the hay; born only to die and take our sins away.

The wise men brought gifts of gold and myrrh to show their respect and that they cared, the reason of our gift exchanging year after year.

Christmas to me is a day to rejoice; a day to sing but most of all a day to remember our saviour and king, Jesus Christ.

Corey Keeling, 8, Antioch — fourth place, class 1, Christmas theme contest

ACHS to participate in health open house

Personnel from Victory Memorial Hospital, Antioch High School, and LCAVC medical assisting and health occupation program students will participate.

Cubicles will be set-up for certain tests to be performed. Some of the tests to be done will be blood typing, height, weight, visual acuity, and blood pressure.

A dietitian, physical therapist, and a physician specialist in electrocardiography will be available to discuss their professions. A display with updated blood testing materials will be sponsored by Steele-Surgical Supply Co. Health educational brochures will be available.

Demonstrations of patient care skills will illustrate what skills are being learned in the Lake County Area Vocational Center health program areas.

Coroner Babcox enters sheriff's race

Robert H. (Mickey) Babcox has finally made official his candidacy for the Republican Party nomination for the office of sheriff of Lake County in the March 1982 primary. Babcox, a lifetime resident of Lake County, in making his announcement, said, "Over 30 years ago I made a vocational choice that has affected my entire life when I entered the field of law enforcement as a deputy sheriff. That decision, made in my youth, blended with 30 years experience, knowledge and maturity have brought me to an even greater decision today.

"Because the Lake County Sheriff's office cannot and should not be associated with a crisis in leadership because it is time to get back to responsibility, respectand reasonableness — I am announcing my candidacy for office of sheriff of Lake County in the Republican primary to be held March 16."

A long-time, active Lake County Republican, Babcox has outlined some of his major campaign plans, "As far as I am concerned, this will be an issue-oriented campaign — not an attack on my opponents, because I feel the needs of the office speak for themselves.

"During my campaign I will address those issues and formulate specific policies to provide the leadership to: maintain the independence and integrity of the Merit Commission; intensify the highway patrol division to reduce the needless, senseless slaughter of over 100 human lives on our highways every year; lower the crime rate by creating effective crime prevention programs; promote a new era of interagency cooperation with all branches of law enforcement community; reestablish high morale within the department; and most importantly, restore public confidence in the office of sheriff.

Holtz not running for county job

R. G. (Bud) Holtz, present assessor of Antioch Township and member of the Lake County Board, told the Antioch News last week that he did not intend to run for his spot on the county board in the upcoming election.

Holtz refused to give reasons why he would not seek county office again, saying, "That's it, I'm just not going to run."

He added that he had not made up his mind about seeking re-election to the office of township assessor.

In August Holtz objected to the ruling made by Illinois Atty. Gen. Tyrone Fahner that called holding both offices at the same time "incompatible."

Fahner's ruling was just an opinion. No court action was taken on the issue.

Fahner found holding the two offices conflictive because county board members act on the appointment, salary and budget of the county supervisor of assessments, Holtz's boss as far as his job as township assessor is concerned.

At the time Fahner was quoted as saying that he did not expect the situation to reach the legal stage since Illinois law already mandated that, in a dual office holding situation when an office is incompatible with the held office, an automatic resignation from the first office takes place.

Holtz is in his 19th year as township assessor and his second term on the county board.

Emmons to present 'Babes In Toyland'

Emmons School will present the operetta, "Babes In Toyland" at 7 p.m., Dec. 10 in the school gym.

This is an effort on behalf of the entire school. Those students not participating directly in the play, will be singing in the chorus, playing in the band and helping back stage.

Many students have been busy at work designing scenery and decorations for the school gym. Costumes and props have been provided by parents.

The production of the operetta has been supervised by Mrs. Shelley Robert, with the cooperation of many hard working parents.

Refreshments provided by the students will be served after the operetta. Parents, friends and relatives are invited to come and share this evening.

Ask Dr. Sven

by Robert T. Sven B.S.D.D.S.

TEETH ARE WORTH SAVING

After years of cavities, fillings, abscesses, and gum treatments, the thought occurs to many people, "Wouldn't I be better off to just pull my teeth out and get a set of plates?" The answer is almost always no. There are good reasons to save all the teeth you can.

Even the best dentures are a poor substitute for natural teeth. Studies have shown that even good dentures have only one quarter to one half the chewing efficiency of your natural set. And many people have great difficulty getting used to dentures — especially lower dentures. Denture sores can be a nagging problem. The shape of your gums can change, necessitating periodic relining or replacement of your dentures.

Be smart, and save all the teeth you can now.

Dr. Sven will be happy to answer individual questions about dental problems. Address personal inquiries to his office.

Tax seminar planned at CLC

The $8 registration fee is tax deductible according to a College of Lake County seminar leader Joel Halper.

The attorney is referring to a registration charge for the "Seminar for Tax Practitioners: Economic Tax Recovery Act of 1981" (CEW 704-001).

The meeting will be held from 7 to 10 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 10, in the Blue Lecture Hall on the Grayslake campus.

Though the registration deduction won't provide significant savings on taxes, other information presented during the seminar should allow participants to take advantage of changes in the tax laws.

Halper will discuss individual income tax changes, corporate and business tax changes, business incentive provisions, retirement savings provisions, and estate and gift tax changes.

Halper worked with the Internal Revenue Service for over three years and is currently in private practice with a specialty in the areas of estate planning and federal tax.

The seminar is designed for tax practitioners, but members of the general public with some knowledge of the tax structure can also attend.

There will be a question and answer session after the presentation.

ASK IDENTIFICATION

Northern Illinois Gas (NI-Gas), today warned customers to be alert for persons posing as employees. Most service calls are made only at the customer's request. At times, however, utility employees may need admittance to obtain a meter reading, exchange a meter or turn service on or off during main construction. When this occurs, customers are encouraged to ask for caller's identification card to confirm the person is a NI-Gas representative.

But Cash Station, you make it so easy.

For years, I never had much luck with machines. I didn't like them. They didn't like me. So when Cash Station automatic banking came along, I was pretty leery about the whole idea.

But then, in one of my bolder moments, I actually tried a Cash Station transaction. And it really was easy! No sparks flying everywhere, no shower of pennies. I just inserted my Cash Station card, punched in my secret code number, and got the cash I wanted in seconds. It even gave me a receipt for my records. What a nice machine!

Now I use Cash Station all the time. Because at any Cash Station, I can get cash, make deposits and transfer money between accounts. Cash Stations are open day and night, 365 days a year. And I especially like the convenience of all the locations—in the Loop, the suburbs, even my train station.

For my money, Cash Station is more than a fast, easy, convenient way to get cash. It could be my first machine friend! Now if it would only talk to my car about that funny noise it's making...

Lose 59-54

Panthers edge Sequoits

by GLORIA Davis

The losing streak of the Antioch Sequoit varsity cagers was stretched to four as they lost a close one to the Round Lake Panthers, on Saturday, Dec. 5, at Round Lake.

Round Lake topped the Sequoits, 59-54 in a game that was close all the way, although the Panthers took a 10 point lead early in the second quarter.

Antioch bounced back to go ahead by six points in the third period but, according to Coach Roger Andrews, "Then the air went out of the ball and we couldn't do much after that."

Andrews chalked the loss up to the team's lack of experience, saying, "We're still looking for a floor leader."

Leading scorers for Antioch were Bob Gatti who hooped 16 points and Mike Gofron up chalked up 13 points.

Andrews also commended Tom Anderson who came off the bench to take a couple of rebounds besides scoring eight points.

The Sequoits will face Grayslake on Friday, Dec. 11, on the Antioch court and North Chicago on Saturday, Dec. 12, in North Chicago.

Andrews says that his boys will have to adjust to game changes against Grayslake and be more solid on their rebounds and free throws.

As far as North Chicago, one of the county's highest rated teams, Andrews expects his team to get good experience in this game, claiming that after these games and the holiday tourney, lack of experience will no longer constitute a legitimate Sequoit excuse.

Antioch High girls commence bowling

The girls' bowling season at Antioch Community High School began Monday, Nov. 30, against Grayslake at Antioch's home lanes, Antioch Bowl.

The frosh-soph team won three and a half points.

The "C" team took one of four and the "D" team four of four.

Eighteen girls are on the squad, headed by Vicky Seymour, with a leading average of 152 for 18 games (matches and practices).

Wednesday, Dec. 2, against Round Lake at Lakes Bowl, the Antioch teams received a setback, with only the frosh-soph team winning one of four points.

Why your electric company is plugging coal and uranium.

There are really only two fuels. The scarce ones and the abundant ones.

The more dependent we are on the scarce fuels to make electricity, the less certain we can be that there will always be enough electricity.

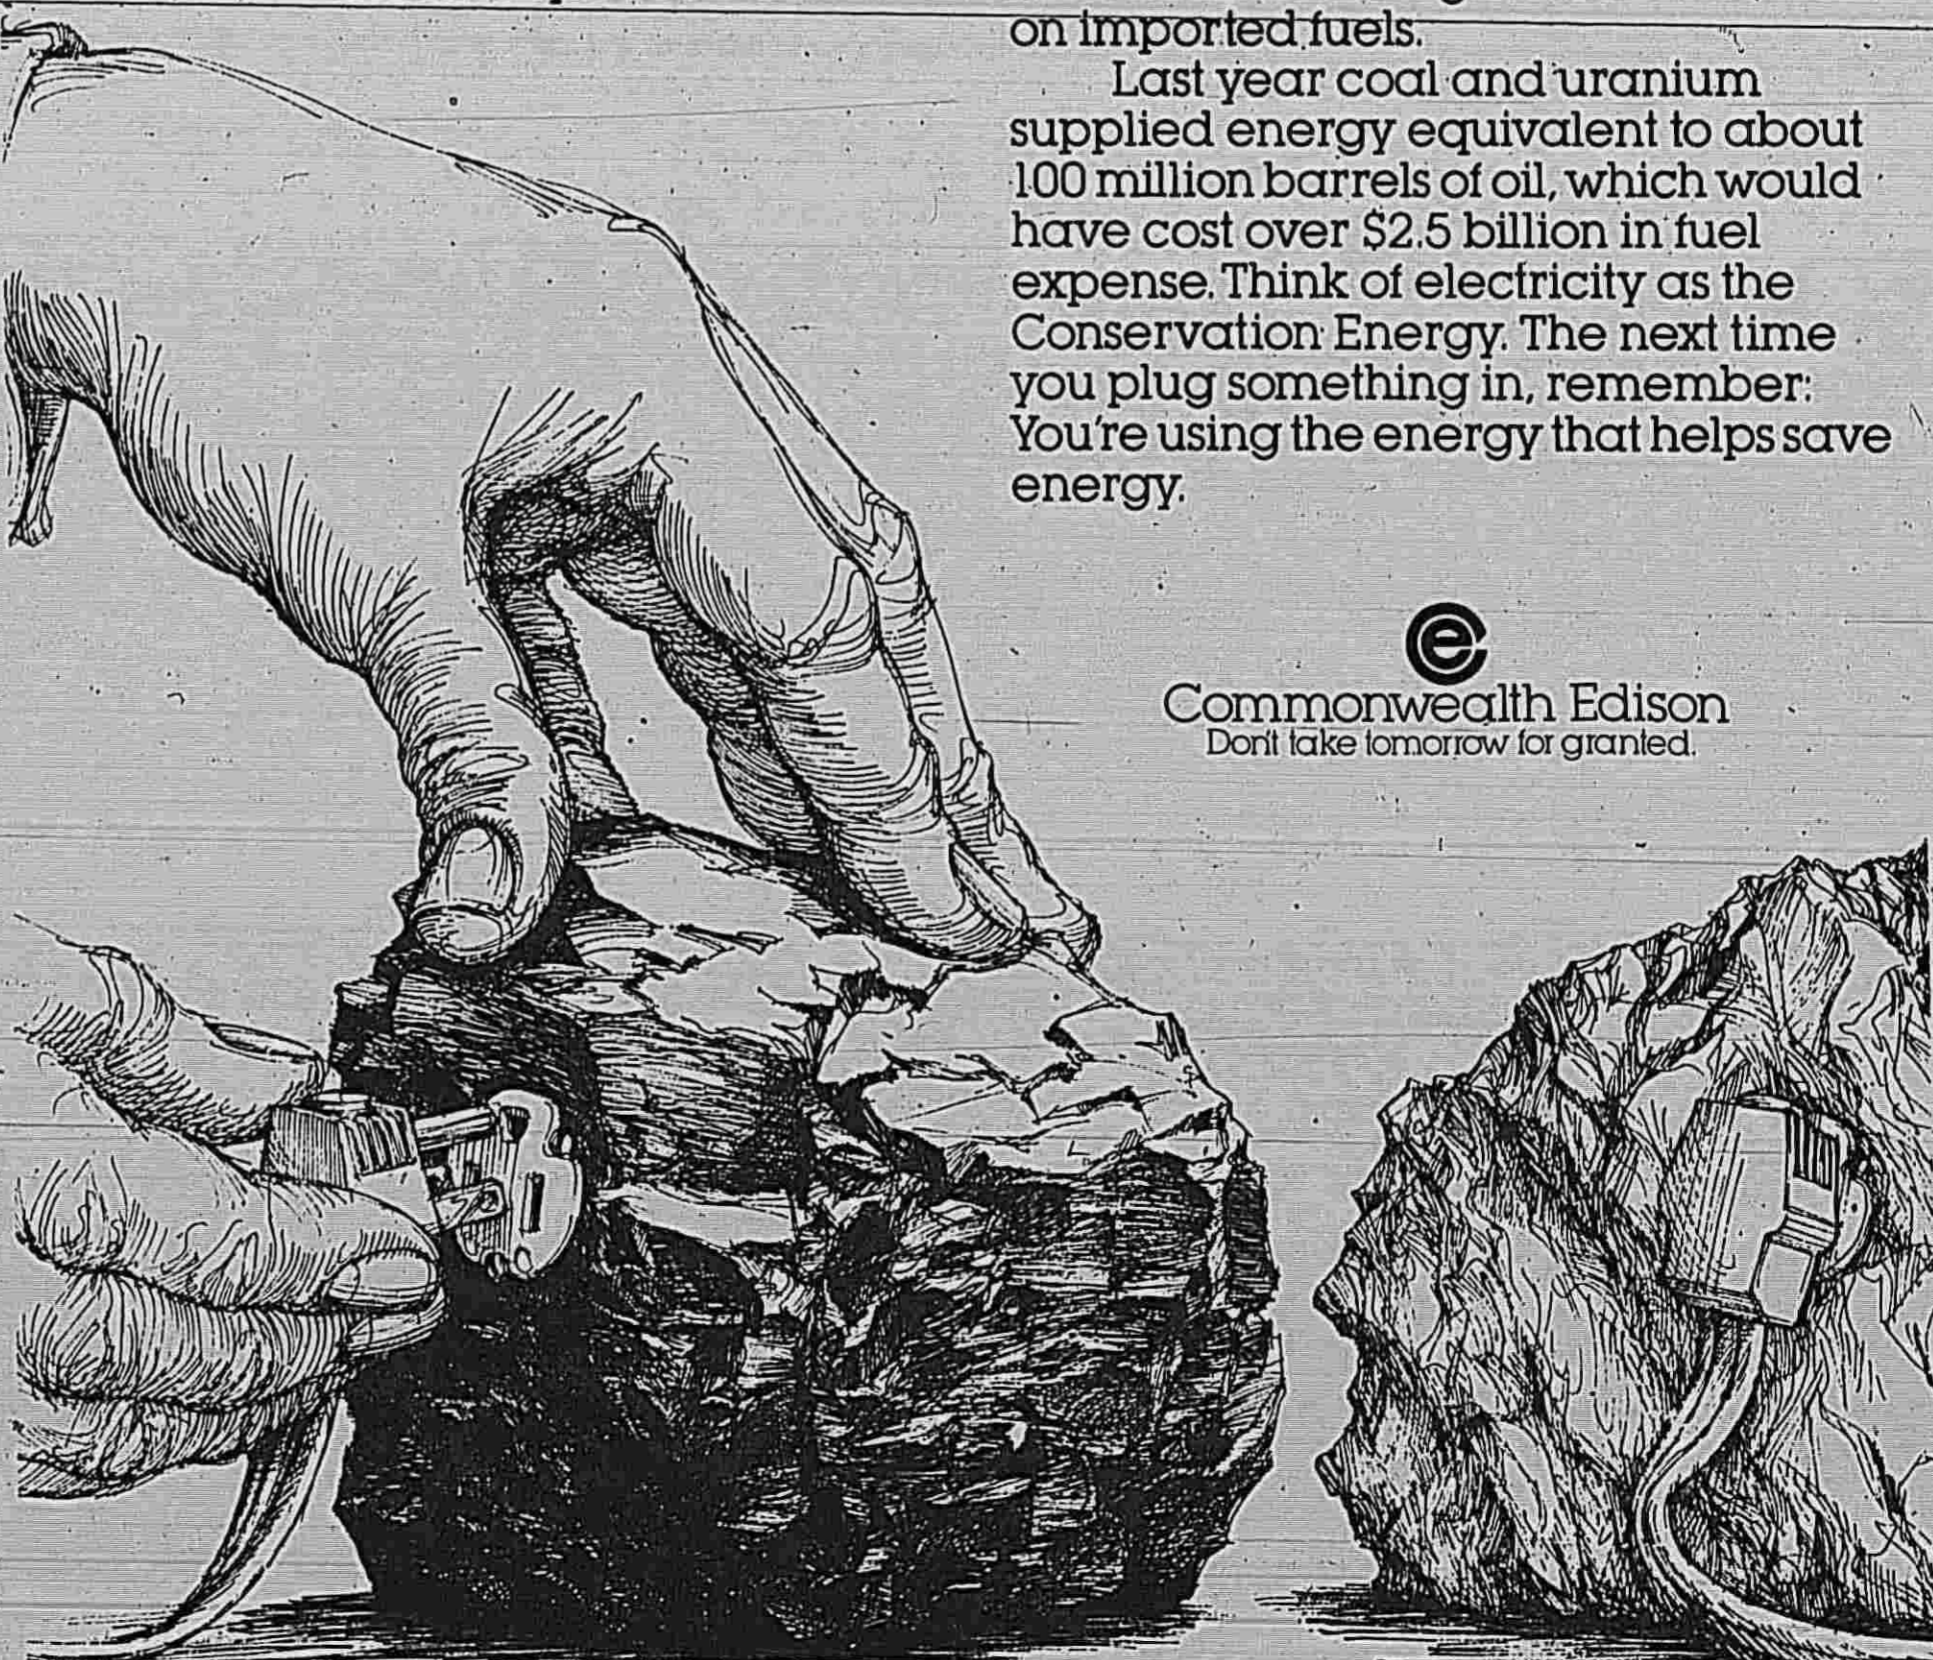

And the more costly that electricity becomes.

So at Commonwealth Edison, we make almost half of our electricity from coal and most of the rest from uranium. Both are abundant fuels. By using them, we're helping to conserve America's oil and natural gas resources for transportation and other vital energy needs. And we're lessening our reliance on imported fuels.

Last year coal and uranium supplied energy equivalent to about 100 million barrels of oil, which would have cost over $2.5 billion in fuel expense. Think of electricity as the Conservation Energy. The next time you plug something in, remember: You're using the energy that helps save energy.

Commonwealth Edison
Don't take tomorrow for granted.

Water plan to go to municipalities

The Countywide Water Quality Committee of Lake County is distributing its Model Water Conservation Ordinance to all Lake County municipalities.

In preparing this ordinance, the committee incorporated the advice and expertise of local municipal officials, the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission and private organizations such as the Homebuilder's Assn. of Greater Chicago.

Many of Lake County's communities have already begun to initiate actions to reduce their water consumption. The committee is asking that the municipalities review the ordinance to see if there are additional steps they might consider to more effectively conserve water.

A recommendation made by the 208 Plan was for all municipalities and counties to attain reductions in their water use in order to conserve the regions water resources.
